

Emory's Student Employee of the Year Congratulations to Haley Grissett

National Student Employment Week is April 12-18, 2020 Colleges and universities across the country recognize the importance of the student work experience and honor students this week.

Student supervisors presented nominations for Student Employee of the Year as part of the national celebration. Out of the many student employees nominated, Haley Grissett has been chosen as our 2020 Emory Student Employee of the Year. Haley is a Sophomore at the Emory College of Arts and Sciences. She is employed as an Administrative Student Assistant for the Office of Residence Life. Haley has proven to be an invaluable member in the department of Residence Life because of her hard work and care for her peers. To quote her supervisor, Nichole Baillargeon, "Haley has had a tremendous impact on the department, campus and Emory residential community through her ability to consistently remain student-focused. This particular lens of being student-facing is something that Haley incorporates into all visions of her role."

Haley Grissett, BA Class of 2022

2019-2020 Emory Student Employee of the Year

"Through my experience as a student assistant, I have been inspired by the kindness and innovation in our residential communities thanks to our wonderful residents, staff members, and Office of Residence Life and Housing. My supervisor has always empowered me to be creative and go above and beyond in my position, and thanks to her I have been able to grow and develop into the student employee I am today. I have had the chance to highlight, lead, and participate in the myriad of events happening in our residence halls and across campus. I am motivated by the number of opportunities we have to support, learn with, and create with each other. I have learned so much about how to build connectivity in our residence halls and across the University to strengthen this spirit of togetherness that, to me, defines Emory."

Student employees are an integral part of the Emory Community and bring exceptional talents to our work environments. Without part-time student employees many departments would find it difficult to meet mission critical goals.

National Student Employment Week is a perfect time to recognize and celebrate the contributions our student employees make throughout the year. Please join the Office of Financial Aid in presenting our heartfelt thanks and appreciation to all of our students who work across the University and with our community partners.
